

Free-Vend

Menstrual Care Products

Menstrual care products are not a luxury, they are a necessity. You provide your washroom users with toilet paper, soap and paper towel, so why are menstrual care products treated differently?

With reliable servicing from Citron Hygiene, providing free pads and tampons to your washroom users will show that your organisation cares for the well-being of everyone who steps foot on your premises.

Why offer free-vend pads and tampons?

Support the Menstrual Movement

Almost all people who menstruate have gotten their period unexpectedly while out in public. Without menstrual care products in public washroom, they are stranded without the supplies they need.

Improve attendance and concentration

This problem affects 86% of people who menstruate, causing 62% to run to a store, 34% to go home, and almost all to feel emotional distress. Create a healthy environment for students, employees, and visitors.

Reliable, Hassle-Free Service

Our expert technicians ensure that your washroom users are cared for, with on-time, reliable refill services.
